

Sunrise Scholarship

The Sunrise Scholarship, for early career teachers, is made possible by a generous gift to OCTM by Trudy Mitchell, longtime OCTM member and math educator. The scholarship is in honor of Trudy's father. The title of the scholarship, Sunrise, has a two-fold meaning. First, the "sunrise" years of teaching are the early years in a teacher's career and, second, Sunrise, Wyoming, was a small mining community where Trudy's father was the superintendent of the mine.

The Sunrise Scholarship will be used to provide support for early career teachers to attend two consecutive Oregon Math Leader Conferences. In return, recipients agree to volunteer to help out in some way, however small or large, at an OCTM sponsored conference or event during the interim year.

Qualifications and requirements:

- Applicants should be early career teachers who have not completed 5 years of full-time teaching in an Oregon classroom.
- Recipients agree to attend two consecutive Oregon Math Leader Conferences with support from the Sunrise Scholarship.
- Recipients agree to volunteer to help out in some way, however small or large, at an OCTM sponsored conference or event during the interim year.
- The scholarship will award registration costs and mileage for both OML conferences. To receive complimentary registration and gas for the second OML conference, recipients agree to submit a description of their volunteer experience to the scholarship chair by July 1st (100 words or fewer).
- Applicants must be an OCTM member and must maintain membership during the two years of attending the OML conferences.
